FieldAware + CentralBOS

Bringing all-in-one ERP capabilities to the field

Key features

- Extend the power of CentralBOS' all-in-one ERP capabilities to staff in the field

- Decrease days-sales-outstanding by eliminating manual and dual entry of data

- Create a unified system of record for back office and field workers

- Both systems reside in the cloud, making it easy to grow and add modules as needed

- Sync documents including forms, photos, and signatures from the field as quickly as they are collected

Empower Your Field Workers

FieldAware for CentralBOS creates a system of record that unifies both back office and field workers - with a focus on simplicity, ease of use and flexibility. The integration between FieldAware and CentralBOS was written by CentralBOS, for CentralBOS customers, providing stability, short implementation cycles, and a modular framework that can grow with your business.

FieldAware for CentralBOS augments your company's investment in CentralBOS through a powerful partnership to better manage your service operation.

If you have teams performing service, preventative maintenance or repair jobs, running an efficient, connected business is core to your success and bottom line.

Real-time Collaboration and Connectivity

CentralBOS provides complete visibility of your organization in one place, giving your back-office teams access to information about work orders, customer and asset history – all from a simple to use web interface. FieldAware for CentralBOS extends the power of CentralBOS to field personnel through their iOS, Android or Windows smartphones and tablets. The combined solution enables companies to track the status and location of their field team alongside every work order in real-time. The FieldAware Scheduler provides an easy way to schedule future work or see who is available when urgent jobs arise. Customizable views allow companies to understand closed and open jobs and calculate the revenue generated. This means that invoices are paid more quickly and field workers are able to complete more jobs - every day.

Accurate, Easy Data Sharing

Jobs generated in CentralBOS can be passed into FieldAware's Scheduler with just a few clicks. Dispatchers can assign the right resource at the right time to complete the job quickly and accurately. Data collected in FieldAware will pass directly into CentralBOS to be used by your Finance team, Inventory Managers, and Sales personnel, resulting in faster and more informed business decisions.
